Sketching a Graph Using Derivatives

1. Find the point at which the tangent line to the curve given by $y = x^3 - 2x^2 + x + 8$ has the smallest slope. In other words, find the point at which the slope of the tangent line is at a minimum. What is the slope at that point?